

THE BOURBON NEWS

SWIFT CHAMP, EDITOR AND OWNER.

Short On Sincerity.

We again decline to enter a controversy with the Paris Gazette. Our columns are not open to advertise that publication.

It is no surprise to us that the editor of the Gazette should challenge any man's sincerity, as he is rather short of sincerity. When least expected you can safely wager the Gazette man will turn and rend those on whom he fawned most—ingrate that he is.

He belongs to the chameleon class. Our advertising rates are in cents per line to the Gazette.

SCARC.—Eggs are scarce on the market and have been retailing at 20 cents a dozen.

BURGLARY.—On Saturday night, a burglar entered the residence of Dr. F. F. Campbell. He managed to get through one of the windows, and secured a Chatelaine bag, belonging to Dr. Campbell's sister, Mrs. Dr. Chas. H. Meyers, of Cincinnati, who is a guest at his home. The bag contained $17.21 in money. The burglary was committed at 1:30 o'clock by a white man. Dr. Campbell claims that he called for police protection, but was unable to get same.

KINDERGARTEN SCHOOL.—Miss Nellie Marsh will open her Kindergarten School at the residence of Judge Mann, Monday, September 14. Public patronage solicited.

THE INTERURBAN.—Rapid progress is being made installing the new machinery at the power house to be used in furnishing current for the Paris interurban line. A slight delay was caused by erecting the platform for the generator of the storage battery too high. This will have to be lowered several inches. The whole work will be completed within a few weeks and it is expected to have the road in operation by the time the trolleys begin at Lexington. The cars for the interurban line to Lexington arrived Saturday night over the Q. & C. They are "beauties" and will soon be seen on the road between here and Lexington. In the meantime they will be taken to Georgetown and placed in the company's car barns. There are three of these new cars, each forty-three feet in length and they are provided with all modern appliances.

Think About This.

Are you a Christian—a member of church? Do you believe that church people going to and from religious worship on Sunday with their wives and daughters should be protected from the shocking spectacle of drunken men and women passing in and out of saloons and reeling on the streets or lying in the gutter?

There is a law against all this. It only needs to elect a council that will enforce obedience to the law. Help elect such a council.

Are you a law-abiding, law-respecting citizen—one who believes that the first duty of the citizen is to obey the law, and the first duty of the official is to see that the law is obeyed?

Then we point you to the open and defiant violation by the saloons of Paris of the law which requires them to close Sunday, and to the refusal of the present council to enforce, or even pretend, to enforce this law, and we ask you to vote with us to elect a council which will both respect the law itself and enforce respect upon others.

Are you a father? Have you a boy who is dear to your heart—a boy in whose future all the hopes of your life are centered, whom you wish to see grow up into a respectable and self-respecting man, possessing the confidence of all, a pride to you and an honor to your name—a tower of strength for good in the community? It is useless to ask these questions of you, if you have a boy. Every man, whatever he may be himself, wants his boy to be a true man and upright citizen.

Don't you know how hard it is for a boy to have that respect for the law which is essential to good citizenship if he has the misfortune to grow up in a community where the law is openly violated and annulled—when the officers entrusted with the enforcement of the law are allied to the forces of lawlessness and wink at violations of the laws they have sworn to enforce?

Don't you think it a dangerous thing for your boy that he should become accustomed to seeing the law set aside and treated as if it had no binding force?

He is treated to that spectacle constantly in Paris.

For the sake of your boy and that you may yourself be spared the remorse hereafter of feeling that you may have helped to destroy him, we ask you to help us restore the regnancy of the law in Paris and the promise for the future that the rule of law always gives.

A vote for the new council is a vote for your boy.

ALL good citizens will vote AGAINST the Old Council.

A Last Word.

This is the last issue of THE NEWS before the election. You will decide tomorrow what kind of city government we may expect to have for the next two years—whether there shall be a continuance of the present regime—only with increased and more flagrant disregard of the law—or whether we shall have a restoration of law and order and a relief from the thralldom of the classes who profit by annulling and disobeying the law.

You fully understand the issues that have been made. A vote for the new council means lower taxes and a restoration of law and order. A vote for the old council means higher taxes and a continuance of the disregard of the law that has scandalized the city for several years past, and which may be expected to be worse than ever if the old council is elected, because their disregard of the law has been made an issue in the election, and if elected they will feel that the annulling of the law by them has been endorsed and approved by the people.

This is the situation. And now let the people decide.

ALL good citizens will vote AGAINST the Old Council.

Riley Grannan An Actor.

Riley Grannan, ex-Parisian, the turf plunger, who has had a most spectacular career, has been engaged by Manager Kirk LaShelle to play the part of the book-maker in the forthcoming production of a racing melo-drama, entitled "Checkers," to be given its New York premier at the American Theatre on Sept. 28. Mr. Grannan will make his debut on the stage of the American Theatre and will open with the production when it begins its season at Washington on September 21. Plunger Grannan has won and lost fortunes; has met with several reverses. He says the race track is too swift for him and he has decided to adopt the stage as a happy medium. Mr. Grannan will begin rehearsals with the company at once and Manager LaShelle expects the turf plunger to give him many valuable points in staging the racing production.

Third Time—No Answer Yet.

PARIS, KY., Aug. 31, '03.

Editor of News: I would like to ask the Old Council, through your columns, if they are elected, if they will again appoint a Republican as City Treasurer? It seems a little strange that a Democrat could not be found in the City of Paris to fill this position. Please let this query appear in each issue of THE NEWS until it is answered, as I do not want to vote for a ticket which will appoint Republicans in preference to Democrats.

Respectfully,

A DEMOCRAT.

NOTE.—This is the third issue that the above communication has appeared in the NEWS and we have not heard from any of the old council yet.

EDITOR.

The Gazette takes exceptions to the above article because the signature of the writer does not appear. The article was mailed to THE NEWS, and it does not know who the author is, but if a name is all that is standing in the way of the answer, and will satisfy the Gazette, the editor of THE NEWS will answer it.

Will the Old Council, if elected, appoint Mr. Alexander—a Republican—to the office of Treasurer of the City of Paris.

[Signed]

ELEGANT

Are the New Fall Modes FOR WOMEN.

The more we urge you to come and see the new creations in the more enthusiastic we become. The styles are so varied and there are so many new materials and effects that the finding of a style particularly suited for every individual figure is a very simple matter.

Tailor-Made Suits,

It is no wonder that the fashionable dressers of to-day are depending more and more upon the leading style stores for their clever things in preference to the individual designers.

It Stands to Reason that the opportunity of selecting from the cleverest ideas brought out by several hundred celebrated designers is better than accepting the styles offered by one.

Besides, in buying a fine costume you must not overlook the advantages of being able to try on any number of effects. It enables you to select the one most becoming to you, which is often very different from what you thought you would like—and just think of the difference in the cost. We show some of the most exclusive things in high grade costumes at $17.50, $20, $25 and on up to $50.

The women of Paris who like to see what is newest and best, are respectfully asked to let that be a sufficient reason for an early visit to the big Department Store of KAUFMAN, STRAUS & CO. Wander where you will about the store; you'll be unhindered and not asked to buy. But if you want to buy, you'll find prompt, interested efficient treatment.
